City and county superintendents requested Saturday that pupils be equipped with and ready for studies when classes open Monday. By far correctly the first day, but out, the individual student will be able to get the work day and will soon find instead of growing more as in the common fallacy, easier and easier to mass.

ATTEND Total of almost 14,000 students will be in school this coming year. In the city and county schools, according to estimates by the city and county superintendents. Nearly 9,000 will be in Lima schools, while the other, almost 5,000, will be in different schools scattered throughout the county.

Central High school, in Connecticut Franklin Junior High this year will have approximately 1,650 students and 250 pupils, according to estimates by Superintendent E. Offenbauer. Fifty-five students will be enrolled in 14 grade schools throughout the county.

Roosevelt-bldg., which was closed this summer, will be in occupancy Monday. The Jefferson-bldg. in the downtown part of the city will be ready for occupation until Offenbauer said. The Jefferson-bldg. is located at Nixon and Horace schools. The Jefferson-bldg. will be at Sugar-ale-av. and will have the students now enrolled at Washington and Whittier.

SCHOOL JOB AWARDED TO LIMA FIRM

Orr and Miller Obtain Findlay Contract Saturday

HOME BUILDING

W. High-st Property Changes Hands During Week

Increased activity in real estate and construction circles was evidenced Saturday with the announcement of new building to be started by Lima contractors to the value of more than $300,000 and transactions in downtown business property.

One of the big contracts of the week in this section was awarded to Orr & Miller, Lima contractors. This firm was given the contract for building two junior high schools at Findlay, the price being approximately $300,000.

One school will be built on the north side and the other on the south side.

NOW ON JOB

Orr & Miller are just completing a $350,000 senior high school at Findlay and will begin work on the other buildings immediately, having a complete organization ready to start operations.

This contract will complete the $750,000 building program the Findlay board of education started some time ago.

A second building program totaling $31,500 was announced by R. L. Fletcher who plans to start work on six modern homes at once. He obtained permits at City Hall Saturday for the work.

Two homes, each to cost $3,000 will be erected in N. Main-st, a $5,000 home in Lakewood-av., two $3,000 homes one in Albert-st and the other in Belvedere-av. and a $2,500 structure in Murphy-st.

Control of the property formerly occupied by the Mecca cigar store has been obtained by the South Side Building & Loan Co. It was announced by J. W. Gensel, it is located in W. High-st.

According to indications Saturday the deal whereby the Old National bank will obtain control of the property now occupied by the Wigwam cigar store may be closed early this week.

Negotiations are said to be in progress for more space for the proposed banking structure that would be afforded by the Wigwam site and until options are finally closed there is a possibility that another site might be the final choice.

With slightly less than three years remaining until the bank must occupy a new home all possible speed is being made in the selection of a suitable site for the structure, it has been announced by officials of the institution.

Indications are that Lima will have a large school building program in the near future if plans of the present board of education materialize. While the buildings at present are said to be adequate to furnish a seat for all children, the board believes that a system of junior high schools is needed here, one in each corner of the city, so that students will not be forced to walk long distances to Central or South high for junior high school work.

If the board is able to carry out its ideas, Franklin Junior high will be taken out of Central building and that entire building used for a senior high school.

A junior high school then probably would be established in a new building on the old college grounds. The present building being demolished and used so far as possible for an athletic building.

Another junior high school would be set up probably on the site of the Lowell building, Jameson and Springet. This building also is in bad condition.

The third junior high would be established at Whittier, Reese-av. and Holmes-av. which is a good modern 19 room building.

The other would be on the site of the old Emerson building or a little further east, this building now being in dilapidated condition.

The board believes it will be forced to do a great deal of building soon and it is thought that it

(By Associated Press)—Governor Donahay's candidacy for re-election will be of great assistance to the Democratic national ticket in Ohio, it was asserted Saturday by A. F. Dye, of Urbana, new Democratic state executive chairman.

The driver of the machine did not stop but circled the block and returned to the spot where the shooting took place. He was wounded in the jaw and arm and said he was going to the general hospital to have his wounds dressed. He left the scene of the shooting before the police arrived.

Miracle surrendered to the police immediately following the shooting. He said the man whose name he did not know had been going with his wife for two years and that Saturday night he decided to lay in wait for them as they passed a certain street intersection. As they did, Miracle, without display, leaped on the running board of the machine and fired the shots which took effect.

The statement left no doubt but that the Democratic state organization would support Donahay undivided. Dye returned Saturday from consultations with party chieftains in Toledo and Cleveland.

The Winthrop family has long been prominent in Massachusetts society.

OMAHA, NEB.

(By Associated Press)—John W. Davis put under way with a rush Saturday his campaign in the great agricultural section west of the Mississippi river.

The Democratic presidential nominee delivered addresses in the morning, the afternoon and night, and between times conferred with his running mate, Governor Charles W. Bryan and many other leaders of his party.

His principal speech was that

Saturday night at the Auditorium for the presentation of his views as to a program for the relief of the agricultural industry.

His first talk was to stockmen and others at the Omaha Stock Yards where he again laid emphasis on the issue of honesty in government, and his second was at a luncheon for party leaders. In that he urged organization and a fight with the ranks of Democracy moving in solid formation.

SUMMONS ISSUED

"This is your fight," Davis said in his luncheon speech. "I am but your agent and your servant. An army is of no consequence without a leader, I admit, but a leader in weak and powerless without his army, and to you, the captains of these battalions, I call now to summon and array your troops with the confident assurance that our assault in November on the entrencheds of privilege and dishonesty will lead to prompt and overwhelming success.

"I summon every man and woman, no matter what political creed they may have heretofore professed, to raise again the standard of public morality and public honor and declare once more for a government that knows no class or creed or section, that cares neither for rich nor poor, for high or low."

In his stock yards talk Davis said he had come from the east to the west to familiarize himself with the problems of the people in this section. He declared that the interests of both east and west are not diverse and that each depended upon the other for a common prosperity. Here again he talked on honesty in government.

FARM RELIEF

A readjustment and lowering of rail and water freight rates; tariff and tax reform and government aid in stimulating the "cooperative" marketing movement and in establishing an export marketing commission, constituted the cardinal points in a farm relief program presented here Saturday night by Davis.

In offering this platform before an audience in the city auditorium, the Democratic presidential nominee vigorously assailed the Republican party for what he characterized as the discrimination against the farmer in favor of the manufacturer, and for its failure to cooperate fully in the restoration of economic conditions abroad so as to furnish a market for American farm products.

REPARATIONS SETTLEMENT

In this connection, Davis expressed his resentment at "the belated attempts" of the administration to capitalize the possibilities in the Dawes reparations settlement "as a political asset." He declared that if Americans had in fact "by their unoffical presence" aided in this settlement, it laid "a crushing burden of blame and responsibility on the shoulders of those who for five long years, prevented any form of American paricipation in solving the reparation problem.

posal as outlined by Charles G.

Davis, the vice presidential candidate, that the entire farm relief problem be submitted to an

"impartial, non-partisan, competent commission, under economic guidance," Davis asserted that there already had been sufficient investigation, and charged that

U. S. BANKS PLAN SAFE POLICY

German Loan Security Sought
Under Dawes Plan

MIDDLEWEST TO PROFIT

Reparation Payment Promises to Help England, France

LONDON — (By Associated Press) — International bankers will demand airtight moral security before they will underwrite the proposed loan for economic reconstruction of Germany, in the opinion of an American financial expert, familiar with the Dawes negotiations and the much-discussed loan.

The most necessary element in guaranteeing security of the German bonds is character—the greatest of the three C's of banking,—the expert said, and for that reason the attitude of the Germans toward reparations settlement will be watched closely by the financiers.

"What the Germans have to do," he said humorously, "is to say that they like it. That's all. Nobody will believe them but that's not the point. They will be doing the graceful thing instead of the awkward and embarrassing."

THE SPIRIT COUNTS

"The Germans must say they are simply thrilled at the idea of paying reparations and rejoice that at last, with the help of the allies, they are in position to do so." As for the French and Belgian troops in the Ruhr, while they are obliged for reasons of State to ask for their removal, a matter of fact, their departure will cause mourning in the German breast.

"Of course, you smile. It is ridiculous, on the face of it. Still, there you are. Something like that must, broadly speaking, be the German attitude if the wartime fears, suspicions and hatreds are to be allayed. Much can be accomplished if the Germans show a disposition to work with the Allies."

BONANZA FOR MIDDLEWEST U. S.

The proposed German loan, if it goes thru, will be a bonanza for the American Middlewest, the expert believes.

"The Germans want to borrow roughly $200,000,000—say, half from America and half from England. Some people say 6 percent from the United States and 40 from England; you hear various proportions. I doubt if it has been decided what they shall be."

"Well, it is clear that America will provide at least $100,000,000 of the German loan. The Germans will use parts of this in the payment of the reparations to the Allies, notably France, Belgium, and they will use the balance in the purchase from the United States of those articles which they most need to carry on their heavy industries, some of which are pledged for the payment of reparations in kind."

"German experts tell us that the American industries most certain to benefit by German purchases in the United States are, as it happens, located pretty much in the Middle West. They are three in number:

"Copper production."

"Sulphur production."

"Portland cement."

NEWSPAPER IS ADOPTED BY PUBLIC LIBRARY IN EXTENDING TIME ON BOOKS

Lima Public Library, thru Miss George McAfee, Librarian, announced Saturday an extension of its present service.

This includes the renewing of books, other than 7-day books, by telephone instead of appearing in person at the library and getting the extension of time. This will be done for the convenience of those who find it difficult to make the trip to the library. This privilege, however, can be used only once for each book, Miss McAfee said.

This week at the library there will be an exhibit of poetry by Ohio poets exclusively. The most famous of the Buckeye poets whose works will be displayed are Paul Lawrence Dunbar, who was born in Cincinnati and who is regarded by many as the best negro poet; William Dean Howells, whose place of birth was Martin's Ferry; Joaquin Miller, who was born in a covered wagon in Ohio near the Indiana line, as he said, when asked as to his place of birth; Alice and Phoebe Cary, sisters, of Cincinnati, and Edith M. Thomas, of Chatham.

WHEELER PLEADS CAUSE OF INDEPENDENT TICKET

NEW YORK — Senator Wheeler of Montana, vice presidential candidate on the independent ticket, pleaded the cause of the movement headed by Senator La Follette and himself Saturday night before an audience in Cooper Union.

He recited the record of Senator La Follette, asserting that the Wisconsin senator's accomplishment guaranteed that the new national effort would be constructive in its tendencies. He reviewed the assault on his political opposition, which he originally based on declaration that both Democratic and Republican parties are controlled by Wall Street.

"It is not more brazen that we need in our government," he said, in developing this topic. "It is a sharper understanding that all legislation and all administration by right should be solely in the interest of the whole people. It is not for towering intellects that you should seek, but for men whom you can trust to remember that it is your votes that elect them."

ZANESVILLE — Mrs. Susan Sedgwick, 75, was instantly killed Saturday evening when she was run down by an automobile driven by Earl Stoner, after she sighted a street car. An only son is living in Columbus.

PREPARING CHILD TO BEGIN SCHOOL WORK

Three million mothers will be sending a child to his first day in the schoolroom. Just what in the way of physical equipment the new school pupil should possess is told by Dr. Borden S. Veeder, child specialist of St. Louis, in the September issue of Hygeia, health magazine.

Unless the child has had a thorough physical examination including his general nutrition, eyes, teeth, hearing, heart, lungs and the condition of his adenoids and tonsils and unless steps have been taken to correct the defects found, he is not ready to enter school, Dr. Veeder believes.

Mothers can learn much of the general condition of the boy or girl about to enter school by quality of which he has been unjustly deprived. We undertake:

"To adopt an international policy of such cooperation, by direct official instead of indirect and evasive unofficial means, as will re-establish the farmer's export market by restoring the industrial imbalances in Europe and the normal flow of international trade with the settlement of Europe's economic problems.

"To adjust the tariff so that the farmer and all other classes can buy again in a competitive market."

"To reduce taxation, both direct and indirect, and by strict economy to lighten the burdens of government."

"To readjust and lower rail and water rates, which will make our markets, both for the buyer and for the seller, national and international, instead of regional and local."

"To bring about the early completion of internal waterway systems for transportation and to develop our water powers for cheaper fertilizer and use on our farms."

"To stimulate by every proper governmental activity the progress of the cooperative marketing movement and the establishment of an export marketing corporation or commission in order that the exportable surplus may not establish the price of the whole crop."

"To secure for the farmer credit suitable for his needs."

"This is our plan and our program, and if elected, I purpose with the aid of a Democratic congress to put it into effect."

EUROPEAN PROBLEM

"At the bottom of the European problem lies and has lain ever since the armistice, the question of reparations. In 1919 President Wilson asked permission of congress to appoint an American representative on the reparations commission. In a spirit of partisanship it was denied. And as soon as it was denied, it was voted to be a bad administration. It is quite as important to the farmers of the United States that existing agencies should be administered to their interest as it is that new laws should be passed for their aid and benefit."

"While the farmer shares the general interest of every citizen in good government, he has a particular interest in some of its activities."

"The department of agriculture has done much for the welfare of the American farmer. Unquestionably it can and it should do more. It has devoted the largest share of its activity in the past to problems of production; it should be stimulated now to think in terms of marketing and distributing. The farmer should be aided in the study of his costs and assisted in building up nationwide systems of cooperative marketing. The department should be rid of political influence and presided over by a secretary competent, courageous and loyal to the best interests of agriculture, and care should be taken to see that his entire personnel is of the same character."

FARM BOARDS

"The interstate commerce commission with its control over railroad rates, the farm loan board and the federal reserve commission with its present powers of investigation and review, all deal with interests vital to agriculture. No person biased or prejudiced for or against any particular class of interest should be permitted to sit on any of these bodies. Personal honesty alone is not a sufficient qualification. Intelligence and impartiality and courage are equally demanded."

"Equally important to the farmer are the department of justice and the federal trade commission. It is an able and aggressive attorney general and an active and alert federal trade commission that the public must look for protection and defense."

"According to my view, the responsibility for providing such an administration rests upon the shoulders of him who is chosen to be president of the United States."

ZANESVILLE — Mrs. Susan Sedgwick, 75, was instantly killed Saturday evening when she was run down by an automobile driven by Earl Stoner, after she sighted a street car. An only son is living in Columbus.

Fight Goes On As Reinforcements Are Called

SHANGHAI—(By Associated Press)—Despite at least two previous repulses, during one of which hand to hand fighting occurred in the streets of Liuho, the forces of General Chi Shieh-Yuan, the Tuchun of Kiangsu, were again hammering away at the line held by the Chekiang army near that town Saturday night.

According to an eye witness from Quinsan, where the Kiangsu army has established its headquarters, Chi's officers consider this battle along the bank of the estuary of the Yangtze with the Woosung fort as its objective, as the most important of the present campaign. All reinforcements are continually being sent there by land, while junks are waiting to take more men to the fighting line as soon as Liuho has been captured. It is the belief of these officers that the fall of this little town, heretofore considered of little importance, will open the way to Woosung.

American destroyers are reported anchored off the town ready to afford protection to Americans, of whom there are several in the Seventh Day Adventist Mission hospital there.

The eye witness who saw much of the Kiangsu army says the men have a good supply of Lewis guns and lots of ammunition, reportedly of French and Italian make. Chi also suffered defeat, according to the defenders, on his right wing at Hwangtu, being driven back six miles.

will work toward the plan outlined above or one similar to it. It is probable that one or two new grade schools will be necessary since members declare one or two now in use and not mentioned in the high school sites are fire traps, unsanitary and past remodeling.

A comprehensive building program such as mentioned would entail a huge expense, a big bond issue being necessary to carry it out. Somewhere around $1,000,000 or $1,500,000 would probably be required.

TOKIO — The "summer embassy" of the United States has been established in Karuizawa, the best known mountain resort of Japan, 20 miles north of Tokio.

The embassy, without a permanent home since its building was destroyed by fire the night of last Sept. 1, leads a somewhat roving existence, and is confronted by the problem of finding new quarters when the staff returns from Karuizawa to Tokio at the end of the summer.

Offices are still maintained in the Imperial hotel in Tokio, which has housed the embassy since the earthquake.

PERILOUS TRIP

KETCHikan, Alaska, — Travelling 650 miles of treacherous and open waters between Seattle and Ketchikan, Linden Bentz, his wife, baby and a goat, arrived here recently in a 16-foot open motor boat. The cruise, which took two months, was made without mishap. After going on to Skagway, the family will abandon its boat and travel into the interior of Alaska.

There was no demonstration upon the prince's arrival or at any time during his stay at the park. The half empty grand stand flew the Union Jack beside the Stars and Stripes. This comprised the only formal recognition that the heir to an imperial throne was paying a second visit to the race track.

WOMAN ADMITS KILLING FIVE

disowned Husband, Four Stepchildren

SECOND MATE GIVEN DRUG

Story of Strange Case Is Brought to Light

MAN MARCOS, Tex.—(By Special Press)—William Hauptrief, 49, farmer, fell in love with his wife, Annie, at the funeral of Schroeder her first husband. He did not know that Schroeder died from poison administered by Annie. Hauptrief, recovering from illness brought by poison which the woman gave him.

Hauptrief, in the Hays-co-here, confessed to District Attorney Blundell that she not poisoned Schroeder and attempted to poison Hauptrief, but also caused the death of her children by giving them arsenic.

After Schroeder's death, Hauptrief told interviewers, he was a friend of Schroeder and his wife for a long time, and that of the young widow as he was being lowered into grave struck a sympathetic chord in Hauptrief's heart. He followed a short courtship and marriage.

Empathy for the seemingly sweet widow governed his action. He gave her place of a home and the rights of a cheerful fireside, until he heard of his wife's intent to kill her first husband a few days ago, as his son had been too serious.

His grief at Court's Burial is natural and unassumed, as a could tell," Hauptrief said. "I had in black, and with young eyes red from long grief, my heart was filled with love for her as she became intestinal when they began going down into the grave."

Four other funerals the was a living picture of a overcome with life's sorrows.

Lydia, 12, daughter of a former marriage, ill and died after a few of suffering. During this Mrs. Hauptrief hovered over the bed of the little girl, for her as tho it was her own offspring.

Within a few weeks of the remaining child, Walter, 14; Herbert, Anna, 10. At the bedside Mrs. Hauptrief kept a watch and followed the eyes of the village physician, trying to save the child to the best to make a better.

At the four children of the mysterious circumstances and the feelings of the village went to the seemingly illiterate.

Execution into the of the children were until his father became ill. He had persuaded his father to sell their farm of 180 acres at $12,000, only a few weeks before he was struck down with a mysterious disease.

Little known in the history gave up their dead chemists examined the bodies. Three more murders were filed and Mrs. was ordered held until the grand jury's month.

The course of investigation found two cans of poison under the bomb and placing a table, ordered Mrs. brought in. The cans were the first by the woman as she into the room.

Attorney she said, "I suppose me to tell you about my first husband."

He made a written admitting poisoning and the four children were to poison Hauptrief.

He said, "so I put arsenic into all of them."

He has filed a petition and has asked for their one-year-old Lenora. The baby is by Hauptrief's mother. Hauptrief is in jail. The baby is expected to be born in the jail, as or release of the either on bail have been.

LITTER OF PIGS IS HEAVY

Weight at Six Months is 3,004 pounds; May Be Record

That the litter of pigs entered by Harrison Bassett, Bath-tp, in the Ohio Ton Litter club this year is the largest he has seen in the state was the remark made Thursday by L. L. Rummell, staff correspondent for the Ohio Farmer, who was in Allen-co gathering local material for his paper.

Bassett's pigs totalled 3,004 pounds when officially weighed last week. In order to qualify for entry in the club all that is necessary is that a little weigh 2,000 pounds at the end of 180 days after birth. Bassett's litter went slightly more than 50 percent above that mark.

BOOK OF MEMOIRS TO BE ISSUED BY PRINCE

MUNICH—Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria will soon publish a book of memoirs dealing with political and military topics. He is sensitive to criticism, however, and as a protective measure has arranged with a group of experienced Bavarian statesmen and an expert in style, to go over carefully every page of his work.

—to have a good APPETITE!

"Yes! thank you."

A GOOD appetite means a cheerful disposition.

You may have a good appetite if the blood that goes constantly to your vital organs is pure. S.S.S. purifies the blood—a good appetite follows and you will have a clear complexion and will be strong, cheerful and healthy.

Don't go on feeling up one day and down the next—hardly sick but never well—losing "pep" punch and ambition. Hearty eaters are the red-blooded men and women. Enjoy your food! Get back your strength and energy! Reclaim yourself before it is too late! People in a physically rundown condition are an easy prey to disease.

S.S.S. is what is needed. Your blood needs purifying. Your blood cells supply the energy which keeps your body well and fit. S.S.S. aids Nature in supplying new red-blood-cells—the spark that renews your system. Carefully selected, scientifically proportioned and prepared herbs and barks make up S.S.S.—the great blood purifier which gives Nature a helping hand.

Get back the lost appetite, the missing vitality, the keen, sparkling eyes, that look of determination. S.S.S. will give you more energy, vitality and vigor and a more up and going appearance.

BRIDGE WORK IS HURRIED

Structures to Be Completed Before Snow Flies

OTHER JOBS NEAR END

Road Contracts May Be Let Yet This Fall

State road and bridge work under construction in Allen-co is being pushed to rapid completion, cold weather acting as fore runner of winter, spurring contractors to renewed efforts. Charles Ash, state resident engineer, declared Saturday.

Excavation on the west abutment of the Elida bridge has been completed by the Roberts Supply Co., during the past week. The bridge will be completed before snow flies, Ash said, but the work of changing the channel of the river, and construction of a levee, may go over until spring.

WORK HURRIED

Contractors on the 60 foot bridge east of Westminster are pouring concrete on the footings and will complete the span in 30 days. By that time the paving of the Bellefontaine-nd, now completed to Westminster, will be finished up to the intersection of the New Hampshire-nd.

Two bridges that have been under construction in Spencerville-nd are not quite finished, Ash said. He declared that he had hoped to open them by Saturday, but due to delays they might not be ready for travel until the middle of the week.

Immediate action on the letting of sections of the old Perryburg-nd and a stretch of the Dixie highway in Bluffton have been promised by the state highway department in Columbus. Ash visited headquarters during the past week and laid the situation directly before Director L. A. Bouley. He was assured that at least the Bluffton section will be sold, if the department has to hold a special sale to do it.

ARMY OF FLIES DEALS DEATH TO GRASSHOPPERS

HELENA, Mont. — Sarcophagid or flesh-fly armies, now invading Montana grain fields, are killing grasshoppers with such rapidity that within a short time the insect pests will be virtually exterminated, according to entomologists of the State Agricultural College at Bozeman. The fleshly invasion, coming at the height of the state-wide grasshopper poisoning campaign, has accounted for millions of "hoppers," the college experts report.

Swarming over the fields the flesh-flies strike the grasshoppers either in flight or on the stems of the grain, killing the hopper by depositing living maggots in one of the vulnerable places on the hopper's shield. The maggot immediately intrudes on the fatty tissues eating into the vital organs and causing a slow death. The Sarcophagid fly multiplies rapidly having from three to five life cycles a year while the grasshopper produces but one new generation each year.

TAXICABS QUIT IN FAVOR OF HORSE DRAWN DROSKEY

BERLIN — The drosky, or one-owner cab, is coming back into its own in Berlin. Many owners of these conveyances were preparing to cast them into the scrap heap or turn them to other uses because the taxicabs were ruining their business. The latter now has begun to decrease in number because of the lack of patronage, due to the high fares charged.

Recently between 800 and 900 taxicabs have been withdrawn from service, the owners declaring that they could not operate profitably at lower fares because of the high cost of gasoline and oil. The drosky fare is about half that charged by taxicabs.

It is estimated that there are about 2,100 taxicabs operating in Berlin as compared with 4,000 a

WILL OHIO GIRL TAKE HER PLACE AT TULSA?

Miss Dorothy Vensel, above, daughter of an oil family prominent in the Mid-Continent field, will abdicate the throne of "Queen Petrolia" at the International Petroleum Exposition in Tulsa, Okla., October 2 to 11. It's possible that an Ohio girl will succeed her on the throne in the "Pageant of Petroleum," which will form a spectacular part of the exposition program.

Ohio Girl Will Compete For Honors

Who is the most beautiful girl in the Ohio oil fields?

The Lima News has been asked by Mayor H. F. Newblock of Tulsa, Okla., to select the Ohio Princess for the "Pageant of Petroleum" which will be a feature of the International Petroleum Exposition in Tulsa October 2 to 11.

Each of the 17 oil states of the Union will send its fairest daughter to Tulsa, where the most beautiful of them all will be crowned "Queen Petrolia" for 1924.

For each of the state beauties there will be provided a beautiful float typifying the commonwealth which she represents. These floats, each of which will cost approximately $1,000, are being designed and decorated by Herbert Barnard, famous pageant artist, who each year, in addition to having charge of the "Pageant of Petroleum," stakes the great "Fiesta San Jacinto" and "Battle of Flowers" at San Antonio, Texas.

SECTION FOR OHIO

A section of the parade route will be set aside for Ohio, and will be decorated with the state's emblems. Visitors to the exposition from Ohio, along with former citizens now residing in the cosmopolitan city of Tulsa, will gather at this point to acclaim the Ohio beauty.

But, best of all, the trip will be from both to the beauties themselves and one champion for each of them. Round-trip railroad and Pullman tickets will be provided, and they will be guests of the city of Tulsa while there. Likewise they will be honor guests at a series of social events that will form a brilliant part of the ten-day exposition program.

Reports reaching headquarters here on Senator Wheeler's tour of New England are regarded as "very satisfactory" by the campaign managers.

BACK TO TOP-HATS

LONDON — The influx of American delegates to the international conventions has been a great boon to the silk top-hat trade. The silk hat stock in London haberdasheries has been virtually cleaned out by the American visitors who came to England without top-hats and found they were expected to wear them at various functions.

BIG AFFAIR

The International Petroleum Exposition is the great annual gathering of the petroleum and natural gas industries. It will be attended by representatives of the two industries from all parts of the United States, as well as from foreign countries. Some 300 manufacturers of oil and gas equipment already have contracted for space in the industrial section of the exposition, while historical and scientific exhibits are being assembled from all parts of the world.

Three days of the exposition will be devoted to sessions of the petroleum congress, at which leaders of the industry will gather to discuss its problems. These congress sessions will be held October 6, 7 and 8. The first day of the congress, October 6, also has been set aside for the presentation of the various petroleum and natural gas producing states, along with the princesses, being guests of honor on that day.

It will be on this day that the Ohio building on the exposition grounds will be christened by the Ohio Princess.

E. F. McIntyre, general manager of the exposition, estimates that approximately 200,000 persons will visit the grounds during the ten days of the big reunion. It will be upon the princesses and their contest for the Queen's throne that the interest of this great throng will be centered.

LEADERS IN LAFOLLETTE CAMPAIGN ORGANIZE

WASHINGTON — The LaFollette-Wheeler presidential campaign is rapidly shaping into form for an aggressive, intensive drive for votes. Organization practically has been completed, arrangements for raising finances have proved satisfactory and attention is now being given to the final details before Senator LaFollette takes the stump.

Labor leaders supporting the independent ticket will meet here Monday to coordinate the work of the unions and prevent duplication of effort. Senator LaFollette will address the meeting and discuss the progress of the campaign.

Reports reaching headquarters here on Senator Wheeler's tour of New England are regarded as "very satisfactory" by the campaign managers.

LARGE ESTATES LAID OUT

Wealthy Millionaires Own Florida Game Preserves

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. — (By Associated Press) — Land in area one-fifth the size of Leon-co, site of the Florida state capital, is controlled in territory adjacent to this city, largely in this county, by northern capitalists whose combined wealth runs into the hundreds of millions of dollars. They have purchased the land and set it aside for game preserves and for winter homes, according to records revealed in connection with the state's centennial celebration Nov. 9-15, which comes simultaneously with the opening of the hunting season.

Among the large holders of property in this section are George F. Baker, president of the board of directors of the National City Bank, New York, with 12,000 acres; Harry Payne Whitney, 14,000 acres; Percy Chubb, New York, 12,000; Carl Fleischman, 6,000; Unio Fleischman, 10,000; George A. Foote, Montefiore, N. J., 3,000; A. B. Lapinsky, Hartford, Conn., 10,000; Louis Thompson, Philadelphia, 10,000 and the estate of the late Dr. Tammam Ronalds of Scotland, 12,000.

Miss Frances Griscom, of Philadelphia, former amateur woman golf champion of the United States, is another well-known holder of lands in this section. She is one of America's leading woman field shots. Another woman landowner is Mrs. A. H. Tiers, of Monclair, N. J., whose husband's scientific experiments affected the sulphur supply of the world. The Griscom estate includes 10,000 acres of woodland, lake and meadow, lying between the Dixie Highway and the Meridian road, and is one of the best known quail preserves in the country. The Tiers place covers 5,000 acres.

COUNTY TO SET QUIZ DATE

Superintendent of Home to Be Picked From Applicants

TEMPORARY APPOINTMENT

State to Have Charge of Test Here This Fall

County commissioners were instructed Saturday to designate the date for holding an examination for applicants for the position of superintendent of the Allen-co home, left vacant by death of the late L. C. Sigler.

Authority to fix the date of the quiz was conferred on the county board by Frank W. Forsythe, secretary of the state civil service commission, in a letter received Saturday.

Forsythe stated that any date set by the county commissioners will be acceptable to the state department and that examiners will be sent to Lima to conduct the test.

He instructed the commissioners further to nominate someone for the provisional appointment to be made by the civil service commission, effective Oct. 1.

H. F. Gray, son of Andrew J. Gray, county commissioner, who was appointed temporary head of the institution for 30 days at a salary of $100 a month, will be nominated by the commissioners for the provisional appointment, it was learned.

AFTER JOB

He will also be an applicant for the position at the examination.

Prior to his appointment Gray was working at the home as manager of the farm. His wife will succeed Mrs. Sigler as matron of the infirmary. The salary is $50 a month.

Mrs. Sigler resigned as matron Saturday, commissioners stated and will leave the institution which has been her home for the past five years. Her plans are uncertain.

From the number of inquiries received, commissioners are of the opinion that at least 10 couples will take the examination for the position.

Purpose of the examination is to create an eligible list from which the selection will be made. The appointment must be made by the three applicants having the highest standing.

QUEEN MAKES GIFT TO FISK JUBILEE SINGERS

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — A portrait of the late Queen Victoria presented by the present Queen of England to Fisk University and a pair of silk stockings worn by Queen Victoria and in need of drying, are among the gifts which the Fisk University Jubilee Singers have brought back to their alma mater from a concert tour of England this summer.

The appropriateness of these Victoriana as gifts to the oldest negro college in America is due to the fact that the original group of Fisk University Jubilee Singers sang for Queen Victoria in the early seventies and again in 1884, thus establishing an international reputation for this colored institution and for the religious spirituals and plantation songs of the American negro. The concert tour just ended is the first trip overseas by the Jubilee Singers in 40 years. It was made possible thru the generosity and cooperation of Joseph Riter, of Palm Beach and London.

THE LIMA SUNDAY NEWS

Published every Sunday morning in The Lima News Building, 131 E. High St., Lima, O. Entered as second class matter June 8, 1924, at the postoffice Lima, Ohio, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Business Conditions

Trade reports for the week reflect general increase in business throughout the nation. Wholesale distribution of dry goods out of Chicago and New York, was on a decided trend upward over the same period last year. Crude oil production declined 7,000 bbls., tonnage of steel orders unfilled, was optimistic, and railroad car loadings exceeded the million mark.

Against these satisfactory developments, came passing of the dividend on American woolen, and a distinctive downward trend on the stock market, with all stocks showing losses.

Locally, three downtown business property deals woke up the real estate situation. Another in prospect may also come as a surprise. In residential circles, the week was very quiet.

Retail trade snapped back with pep following the drop in temperature, and there was more buying than for many weeks. Furniture stores, especially, report good business running into a volume in dollars not known in recent weeks.

Industrially, the outlook is not so bright. No new orders have been announced by the Loco, but the cigar industry continues at capacity, and small manufacturing concerns have enough orders on hand to cause no reduction of pay-rolls. Prosperity of the farmers in the district is very pronounced. Bank loans and implement notes are being paid off, and much retail buying going on from the agricultural sections. New models, changes in price, and activity in the used car market, have enlivened the automotive sales agencies.

Lima enters into fall with every indication of general prosperity and expansion, and taking its hint from the East, will discount presidential problems, not being taken seriously, because both candidates are of the safe and sane stamp.

Our Traffic

Lima's traffic still is in a sad mess. Everyone is up in the air, officials as much as drivers. We have a condition where none knows what to do and danger prevails at practically all busy corners.

Officials have made and changed rules with the speed credited to the changeability of a woman's mind. Three distinct types of traffic lights are used and they flash and flicker and at one corner, at least, cause as much confusion as would a traffic policeman with four arms, all waving at once.

Our traffic regulations must be stabilized soon if we are to have any degree of safety. Drivers are not to blame if they are not able to follow the gambit practiced officially in this matter.

We fail to see why it should be such a terrible task to get down to a sensible basis if the task is approached in the proper manner. There are various cities in this section where traffic is not the bugaboo it is made to appear here. Take Columbus or Dayton, for instance.

We'd be in favor of loading up all the officers now assigned to traffic duty and taking them down to Columbus for a few lessons. They could learn something about the problem there.

Main and High-ways and the public square seem to be the ones hardest to get straight. The former should not be any harder to handle than any other corner, if uniform regulations were set and then followed.

Automobiles run in every direction at the same time in the square. Two lines of traffic move north and south at the same time, but obscured from each other by lines of parked machines. Several accidents already are chargeable to this condition.

On east and west traffic, machines cut in and turn everywhere into traffic moving in the opposite direction. They turn right and left and duck and dodge about and at busy hours no one is safe there, walking or driving.

We believe Lima's traffic problems are simple and can be solved without a great deal of time and expense. We would like, however, to see policemen on duty working on the same rules, telling drivers the same thing all the time. We believe the first big task is for the police department to get set itself so it knows what it is about and then stick to the job of educating the public.

Around The World

Chalk up another great accomplishment for America! Mark down in history that this nation, the home of the airplane, has the honor of being the first to send airplanes around the world.

The two hardy fliers who piloted their craft around the globe, accompanied by the third, who was forced down before completing the journey, landed in Boston yesterday. They had accomplished afeat no man before them had. They had placed another milestone along the road of progress for the United States air service.

While we rejoice that our nation was the first to send the comparatively fragile flying machines around the earth, no particular good will come of the experiment unless there is a change of policy to make for reliability of air craft rather than for speed.

A world renowned pilot was killed at Dayton a few days ago while dashing thru the air at the rate of 265 miles an hour. All airplanes, of course, don't fly that fast, but it appears that more attention is being given to speed than to safety.

In conquering the air we naturally are working against the laws of nature. Man wasn't really intended to fly thru the air or Nature would have given him wings. He got his brain to working, however, and patterned after a bird and made a rig that would carry him. Then he got speed crazy and made his death trap fly a hundred miles an hour. That wasn't fast enough and he made the thing a little better and got up to 200 miles an hour. Then he wanted to go faster and there is no telling what he will do with the contraption in that direction.

Baby learns to crawl, then toddle about and finally walk. He doesn't go in for much speed until he is fairly well convinced that he may do so safely—without falling. But man made air planes fall and burn and crash in the air and blow up. But the speed craze goes on.

We have, in the round-the-world flight, conquered most of the problems of distance but not without a price. There is not a great deal left in this direction unless someone gets a notion of flying to the moon. We hope our nation will be content to rest on its laurels, now and give more attention to building air craft that will have more to recommend them than speed.

School Days

Public schools of Lima will open tomorrow. The attendance will be far greater than heretofore and the system will be taxed to capacity to take care of the youngsters who are seeking an education.

This year we have a new regime. Many of the old faces will be seen in classrooms, but the executive department is entirely new. The administration will get a severe test and the eyes of the public will be on it because it was placed in power to remedy faults, real or fancied.

We hope the public is fair with the school administration and lends a helping hand. We also hope that the administration is considerate, broad-minded and conscientious. Our children's welfare is too valuable to be endangered in the least wise by foolishness and whimsy.

POULTICE WITH SYMPATHY

That was a strictly scientific and less mushy application, hot talk we had about poulticing the most compresses, for the swelling other day. Not a trace of sympathy in it. Some doctors are all, particularly admirable in the first aid setups and some are all sympathy. The scientific ones are the ones who begin to reddish

the fine while there is hope, but when there is no more hope in a sympathetic doctor and he does not do a lot of good. If I were down and out I'd want a council of scientific doctors sitting on me,

but if we were down and out I'd soon tell the scientific chap where to go and I'd have great gobs of sympathy to swallow in.

By the way of compensation for the other poulticing I gave you, this talk today is about poulticing with sympathy. To tell the honest truth (which isn't quite right for a sympathetic doctor)

poulticing has gone out of fashion lately. You may remember, if you were too too indignant, that we mentioned in the other talk the effect of a poultice—it favors the growth and infiltration of grains by providing the conditions they need, namely, food warmth, darkness and moisture, and therefore poulticing favors or hastens suppuration—the breaking down of severely inflamed and damaged tissue into pus (matter).

This pus or matter, it should be understood, is the remains of tissue which has been destroyed, examined with the microscope, it consists of fragments of structure of living and dead white blood corpuscles (phagocytes or scavenger cells) which are devouring or are killed by the germs responsible for the trouble

A poultice must be hot and thick. The heat is the important thing from the sympathetic point of view, for that is what makes the poultice so comforting. Moist heat is generally soothing, relaxing and sedative in effect. From the scientific point of view, that is, while there is still hope of stopping the inflammation, I should prefer the more modern method of poulticing.

When there is any drainage or discharge from the wound the poultice must be made artificial to destroy the germs

before they can spread and cause complications. This is best done by adding to the water a tablespoonful of boric acid, which you'll find in the household medicine cupboard. A tablespoonful of boric acid dissolved in a pint of boiled water makes an efficient antiseptic solution as a layman can safely use.

EXPERIMENTS IN DISEASE VETOED

Mouth Malady too Dangerous, Wallace Says

IRS NEW OUTBREAK

Because of Highly Contagious Nature

WASHINGTON — (By United Press) — Pledging all available resources of the government in eradicating outbreaks of the foot-and-mouth disease, Secretary of Agriculture Wallace has vetoed a number of requests and suggestions for federal experimentation of the disease because of its highly dangerous nature.

The Berlin Boersen Courier emphasized the fact that Russia is supposed to have received back its rights to the Chinese Eastern Railway which were confiscated during the revolution, but says the signing of an agreement between Russia and China is quite different from getting back the rights.

Chang So-Lin, the military governor of Manchuria who has refused to approve the Russo-Chinese treaty negotiated by the Peking government under the direction of his arrival Yu Fei-ju, is regarded as the German press as the representative of American objections to the agreement with Russia and his appearance as the chief objector to the execution of the agreement is commented upon as the greatest achievement of diplomacy in the Far East.

DEMOCRATIC VICTORY IN MAINE PREDICTED

WASHINGTON — Democratic victory in the Maine elections Monday was forecast today by Clem Shaver, chairman of the Democratic national committee, in a statement asserting that "indications of Democratic strength in Maine are not at all surprising in view of the general condition of dissatisfaction with the Harding-Coolidge administration and the strength of Davis and the Democratic position throughout the country."

"Careful analysis of the Maine situation, based on reliable information received during the last few days," Shaver said, "gives us every encouragement to anticipate favorable results. It indicates which candidates which contemplate keeping the disease in stock in any part of the United States or any island adjacent. The methods of eradication which the department has followed have kept the United States free from the disease except for the occasional outbreaks."

SCOUTS THEORY

Explaining that severe outbreaks of the disease occurred in 1902, 1908 and 1914, all late in the year, Wallace has scouted the theory that flies and other insects were responsible.

"The department of agriculture," Wallace said, "has a staff of highly trained scientific workers and has a deep appreciation of the value of scientific work. But in view of the highly contagious nature of the disease and especially of the economic hardships caused by quarantining measures against localities and states in which the disease exists, it does not seem wise to entertain suggestions which contemplate keeping the disease in stock in any part of the United States or any island adjacent. The methods of eradication which the department has followed have kept the United States free from the disease except for the occasional outbreaks."

IMA PLAYS ANGOLA SUNDAY FOR LEAGUE LEADERSHIP

Police Team To Defend City's Baseball Honor In Game Today With Dayton Safers

ALLORAN DEPENDS ON WESTBAY, FISH; BRYAN IS STRONG

It is perhaps the most important game up to this date since the Ohio-Indiana league race began, this game between Lima and Angola at Angola today. A season of close races for the coveted gongalon in practically all the leagues—majors and minors—the habit is as paramount in the local circuit as anywhere else. Before this game is played Angola has the advantage of just .031 points over Lima. In other words the standing Hoosiers is 13 games on and 4 lost for a percentage

When Lima lost to Celina in the standing into second place with 11 wins and 4 lost with a percentage of .733. To win this in Hoosier territory Lima again lead the league race percentage of .750 while would be dropped to second a percentage of .722. Another menace to baselines, however, Bryan is at the shoulders of both and Angola, and if that would win today and Angola there would be only a .71.016 points for a tie. This is the situation a journeys to the Indiana t is a tight race and an one. Every team in the is full of fight.

Team of winning three games one from Lima from Dalphos, the little city is as enthusiastic wearing its first trousers a protested game with and they believe if they they will be in the running have a "kid pitcher" a raw country boy, who remembered pitched Lima and won his game. Country youth of 19 and while he has plenty however, resort to a passing game should occasion demand.

South is blessed this fall with an abundance of material. Fully 75 boys turned out for first official practice Tuesday, but there was equipment for only 50 and the others have to be content to wait until more arrives.

Those who have been seen before in the golden and blue spangles and who are on the squad this season are: Wren, fullback; Throckmorton, quarter and half; Bowers, half; Rutledge, center and guard; Barthold, quarter and half; Shape, end; Vastano, half; Todt, center; Workman, guard; Minor, tackle and end, and Shridford, end. These boys are all expected to get into the game, but it is not likely that they all will be the ones to start the contest. Coach Galberach said Saturday.

South has a tough schedule this year, but with the tutelage of Coach Galberach and an aspiring bunch of grid material, the south ern institution plans to come thru with a victorious season. Such teams as Cleveland Heights, Cleveland West, Commerce and Toledo Woodward Tech will be met during the course of the schedule.

CENTRAL PLAYS CELINA

Central, which does not begin its season until a week later than South, is booked to play Celina here on Sept. 20. Two weeks later the Red and Green are to meet Kenton at Central field in the stadium dedication game. Probably the stiffest team on Central's schedule this year is Akron West, whom the local eleven will meet on Oct. 18 here.

THE SCHEDULE

Following are the schedules of the two teams:

SOUTH
 Sept. 13—Van Buren here.
 Sept. 20—Open (away).
 Sept. 27—Bluffton here.
 Oct. 4—Open (away).
 Oct. 11—Bluffton here.
 Oct. 18—Ada there.
 Oct. 25—Cleveland Heights here.
 Nov. 1—Toledo Woodward here.
 Nov. 8—Cleveland West Commerce here.
 Nov. 15—Defiance there.
 Nov. 27—Central at Central.
 CENTRAL
 Sept. 20—Celina here.
 Sept. 27—Bluett here.
 Oct. 4—Kenton here (stadium dedication game).
 Oct. 11—Bowling Green here.
 Oct. 18—Akron West here.
 Oct. 25—Findlay there.
 Nov. 1—Middletown here.
 Nov. 8—Ada there.
 Nov. 15—Bluffton here.
 Nov. 27—South at Central.

WE SHOULD WIN

One of the best pitchers in the Ohio-Indiana league in 1928, he has proven this year, winning ball he has done for Lima. It is reasonable to expect that he will do well for Angola today. All the men and Galberach are out, and with them 21 per cent of the batsmen there is still enough power to win from Angola.

But it is remembered that Angola is the best in the pitching box. If they have another leader of the league. But a pitcher's battle and batting strength is controlled by Lima.

EUROPE DEVLOPES "FREAK" AUTO DESIGNS

U. S. MAY ADOPT METHODS

Gearless Transmission Gets Thoro Tryout

NEW FRONT WHEEL DRIVE

Economies Sought Thru Use of Innovations

Two 'freaks' in automotive design that may ultimately result in actual adoption have been developed recently in Europe

One is a form of transmission which does away with the use of clutch and gears

The other is a new form of direct front wheel drive

M. Constantinesco, invention during the war of the synchronizing device that timed airplane machine guns to fire between the blades of revolving propellers, is the man who has designed the gearless form of transmission. He calls it a 'torque converter.'

Torque means the turning effort applied by the engine to a rotating gear, shaft or wheel. When the machine is at rest, the turning effort required is so high as to require an additional lever, at present supplied by the system of gears, to the torque of the engine.

CRANK METHOD

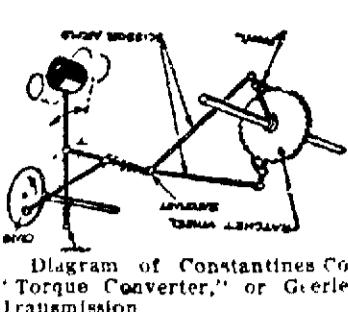

Instead of gaining this additional leverage thru gear transmission, Constantinesco has devised the method of crank and scissors method. Together with a pendulum arrangement, he has been able to convert the high speed of the engine into the slow, more deliberate speed required in starting a car, by this converter.

There is no shifting of gears, of course, except to reverse. At the only control is the throttle. Going up a hill, opening the throttle would be like going into second, for this would mean giving the engine greater torque or turning effect thru the converter.

The front-drive idea is as old as the automobile. This new form isn't much of a departure from the old, except that it is more rationalized considerably. It is a British invention.

In favor of this form of transmission it is argued a drawn vehicle is more under the driver's control than one that is pushed. Also, there is the chance to make the entire propelling mechanism of the car compact especially with the abolition of long propeller shafts. Unsprung weight is reduced and it is expected that this form of drive would reduce the cost of production.

NEW DESIGN

INSURANCE PLAN STUDIED

Compulsory Policies Proposed in Various Commonwealths

NEW YORK — (Special) The fight for and against compulsory automobile insurance is being renewed this year with greater vigor.

Last year, five states had bills proposed to their legislatures for this form of insurance. This year, more state assemblies are expected to face the same question.

Compulsory automobile insurance, in general, would require every auto owner, including trucks and busses, to carry liability insurance for his vehicle, and in some cases an additional requirement for property damage or injury is provided.

All forms of organizations interested in the least way in auto traffic have joined the fight. Besides the various automobile associations, manufacturers' owners, drivers, taxicab companies and associations, safety clubs and government bodies are included in this general discussion.

All agree on only one point—that the irresponsible driver would by this means be made to pay for any personal injury or property damage he might cause. Altho this is the chief cause and argument for the provision, there are so many minor points in the discussion against such a law that there is doubt whether it would pass. In the five states in which the bill was brought up, it failed of passage last year.

Compulsory auto insurance has worked with remarkable success in Denmark and Switzerland, proponents of the law in this country point out.

OLD TIRES FOR FUEL
Burn your old tires as fuel—if you have a good stove and a good draft. A farmer at Seabrook, Mass., has tried it and advises it for those who don't know what to do with discarded castings. "They leave no odor when burned in a good stove," he says.

PRICE HITS FRENCH
Price is the main factor in buying an automobile in France, reports Assistant Trade Commissioner Wilson K. Ray from Paris. After price come body design, power, gas consumption and seepage.

WORLD'S WORST ROAD
The world's worst road has been found by American tourists to be the 600 mile camel path between Kalgan and Urga, in Mongolia. Six trips and the auto is "shot." One trip is enough to kill the tires.

KING STICKS TO OLD MODEL

LONDON — (Special) King George of England would have continued using his old model Daimler, which has been in his service for the last 14 years if it were serviceable enough.

Since even the king's cars wear out, however, his highness has ordered an exact duplicate of it. It's a 57 horsepower six cylinder sleeve valve engine, which the Daimler people had to make especially for the king, because this model has been discontinued.

The wheelbase of this auto is 102 inches, 17 inches longer than that of the longest American car.

The only feature of any importance that is new on the car is the system of four wheel brakes.

New Windshield On Oakland Car Big Improvement

The Oakland Motor Car Co. has just adopted a new one-piece windshield for its four closed models. All forms of organizations interested in the least way in auto traffic have joined the fight.

Altho this is the chief cause and argument for the provision, there are so many minor points in the discussion against such a law that there is doubt whether it would pass. In the five states in which the bill was brought up, it failed of passage last year.

Compulsory auto insurance has worked with remarkable success in Denmark and Switzerland, proponents of the law in this country point out.

The new windshield does not tip to give ventilation, but slides upwards in ret-tuned channels, much in the same manner as the side windows of the closed body type of motor car. It is easily and mechanically operated by a crank located above the shield and does not rattle. All the new windshields are fitted with automatic windshield cleaners.

One-half turn of the regulator handle raises the shield from its base one inch, opening a section approximately 45 inches long and one inch high, to outside air pressure. The air rushes uncontrollably thru this ventilator the entire length of the shield and is conducted into the body, forward and down to the floor. This type of windshield eliminates the cow-ventilator.

If more air is desired, two and one-half turns of the regulator handle raises the shield three inches above the instrument board, opening a section approximately 135 square inches, thru which the air rushes directly into the driving compartment. Quick ventilation and thorough change of air are obtained by opening one of the doors, or one of the rear quarter windows.

Paige-Built 1925 Jewett Stands Tests

The "Proved Jewett," a Paige-built six-cylinder car, is announced to the public this month in a new dress, better equipped and with balloon tires, carrying the added glamour of having traveled "one billion miles beyond experiment," according to Huber, manager of the Huber Auto Sales Co., local Paige and Jewett distributors. The new cars are now on display in their local showroom.

Since even the king's cars wear out, however, his highness has ordered an exact duplicate of it. It's a 57 horsepower six cylinder sleeve valve engine, which the Daimler people had to make especially for the king, because this model has been discontinued.

The wheelbase of this auto is 102 inches, 17 inches longer than that of the longest American car.

The only feature of any importance that is new on the car is the system of four wheel brakes.

The standard line has four models: the touring car, three-passenger coupe; five-passenger brougham, and five-passenger sedan. Three models, the touring car, five-passenger brougham and sedan are furnished in the DeLuxe line.

They are furnished on the famous Jewett S-6 chassis widely known for its power and hill-climbing records. The company has just adopted the slogan "One Billion Miles" Jewett. Harry M. Jewett, president, in explaining this to the country calls attention to the fact that there are over 100,000 Jewett automobiles now in the hands of satisfied owners, who have given them a total in excess of one billion miles traveling.

The new windshield does not tip to give ventilation, but slides upwards in ret-tuned channels, much in the same manner as the side windows of the closed body type of motor car. It is easily and mechanically operated by a crank located above the shield and does not rattle. All the new windshields are fitted with automatic windshield cleaners.

One-half turn of the regulator handle raises the shield from its base one inch, opening a section approximately 45 inches long and one inch high, to outside air pressure. The air rushes uncontrollably thru this ventilator the entire length of the shield and is conducted into the body, forward and down to the floor. This type of windshield eliminates the cow-ventilator.

If more air is desired, two and one-half turns of the regulator handle raises the shield three inches above the instrument board, opening a section approximately 135 square inches, thru which the air rushes directly into the driving compartment. Quick ventilation and thorough change of air are obtained by opening one of the doors, or one of the rear quarter windows.

Research and experimental work tested every accessory before it was selected, and the color experts of the General Motors Corporation, Chevrolet Motor Co., du Pont company, makers of Duco finish, and the Fisher Body Co. were consulted before the finish of the new cars was decided upon. WARNING GIVEN BY COOLIDGE

Tells of Attempt to Overthrow
American Freedom

HALT ON MOVEMENT URGED

President Speaks at Unveiling of LaFayette Statue

BALTIMORE — (B Associated Press) — Dedicating a monument to LaFayette, "a true son of world freedom," here Saturday, President Coolidge warned against a "deliberate and determined attempt to break down the guarantees of our fundamental laws," and called upon the American people to decide now "whether America will allow itself to be degraded into a communistic and socialist state."

The president mentioned no names in the movement he avowed to switch the power of the supreme court to congress but he declared such action must be stopped "before it is begun."

"The time for Americans to range themselves firmly, squarely and uncompromisingly behind American ideals is now," he declared. "Those who want to continue to enjoy the high estate of American citizenship will resist all attempts to encroach upon their liberties by encroaching upon the power of the courts."

WARM RECEPTION — The message, delivered from the base of a monument to George Washington and facing the equestrian statue of LaFayette, was received with enthusiasm by the LaFayette-Dare celebrators who always gave a warm reception to Mr. Coolidge's plea for abolition of war hatreds and service in the foreign relations of this country.

Recalling that Lafayette had

"fought to establish American independence," the president declared this country had "kept clear from political entanglements with other countries," but at the same time had dedicated itself to peace thru honorable and disinterested relations with the other peoples of the earth.

Before delivering his address, Mr. Coolidge placed a wreath on the monument to LaFayette as it was unveiled, standing for a short time at attention with his military and naval aides, Colonel C. O. Sherrill, and Captain Adolphus Auterwey at his side at the base of the edifice. He listened also to messages on the day from the heads of the French government and army delivered by M. Andre De LaBoulaive, charge d'affaires of the French embassy at Washington, and to a welcome from Governor Ritchie of Maryland and Mayor Jackson of the city.

CHURCH CONFERENCE REVISION PLANNED

WIGINGTON — Revision of the Ohio Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church into five districts instead of six, as was done at the annual conference meeting opening here Wednesday. It adopted the plan which eliminates as far as possible the separation of counties into different districts, leaders declared.

Under the present arrangement many counties of the state are divided between certain districts. The new plan would give each district entire counties.

HARPER ARRESTED

DELPHOS — James J. Harper, Delphos, Ohio, connected with the picture concession, which is now in Delphos for the Tri-County Fair, was arrested Friday night by Chief of Police, Clark Thompson, on charges of being drunk and disorderly. Harper was arraigned before Mayor, G. N. Leasure, Saturday morning and pleaded guilty to the charge, saying that he had quenched his thirst with a half pint of "what was awful bad liquor." He was fined $10 and costs.

VOTE DRIVE IS SCOUTS' PLAN

"Get Out for Election," Boys
Adopt as Slogan

Lima Boy Scouts will cooperate with local representatives of the various national agencies working for registration and voting in the coming election, Joseph M. Butcher, local scout executive, said Saturday. Everything done will be on a non-partisan basis, he said.

Scouts will try to get figures showing the 1920 vote of other towns of the size of their own, and will then undertake to beat the highest record in their state and outside their state. They will work systematically, beginning in their own homes and covering their neighborhoods, block by block, street by street. They will try to get homes to display placards reading "We Have Registered, Have You?" and also on Election Day others reading "We Have Voted, Have You?" and still other placards with the words "Let's Make Our Street 100% Clean Voters."

Besides this work, Scouts will also distribute literature of other agencies that are in the campaign. The scouts will be kept out of all partisanship activities and focus their efforts entirely on a high "voting average" for their respective towns and cities, entirely irrespective of the party affiliations of the voters. Every man in the movement will be urged to make every sacrifice to register and vote, and to get every adult member of his family to do likewise.

BERNE — The Federal Railway Administration has anounced that in the future only electrically equipped German railway coaches and sleepers will be permitted to cross the Swiss frontier in transit to Italy. The order was issued as a result of the railroad disaster last April at the Swiss exit of the Simplon tunnel, in which Dr. Helfferich, former German finance minister, was among those killed.

Gas lighted coaches were said to be responsible for the fire that started immediately after the wreck.

REVERSIBLE FUR WRAPS, THE LATEST IN FUR STYLES.

The latest fur wraps are reversible—which is good news for the woman who buys one.

"As long as a fur wrap costs as much as a good automobile, why not give the wearer more for her money?"

So reasoned the fashion arbiters, and thus we have a garment that can be transformed in the twinkling of an eye from a plain black and white affair to a creation trimmed with thousands of ermine tails.

The first pose shows a Russian ermine creation, with foundation of imported orange chenille.

The second is the same garment reversed. It has 3,000 ermine tails, set in individual tinsel caps, and a white fur collar.

The third and fourth show a combination wrap of royal blue brocaded velvet and Russian ermine.

One view of it shows solid ermine in herringbone pattern.

CLUB LEADERS PLAN PARTIES; DANCE PROGRAM

Families Return From Vacations—Months of Study and Learning With Club Affairs Occupy Attention of Society Women—Joyful Season Predicted

Younger Set Drop Care Free Attitude for Studies at School—Universities Open Soon—Fall Weddings Expected—Shawnee Club Stays Open

WITH the delightful fall weather that we are now experiencing and the return of many families from their summer vacations, Lima people do not find it hard to realize that the care-free summer days are nearly over and that it is time to return to their fall and winter duties. The women in club circles have already begun to outline work for the winter and plan for the usual months of study and learning. It is, perhaps, a bit easier for the young people to realize that summer has gone, because of the fact that the local schools will open this week and that other schools will soon be ready for their pupils within a short while.

The young people have had a gay summer here. There have been more than the usual number of house-parties at the resorts nearby and informal dances given by various organizations have been numerous.

But now, there will be an end to these until the holidays begin. Ohio State University, Ohio Wesleyan, Miami University, University of Michigan, Wellesley and others are among the schools and colleges who will soon claim groups of Lima's young people.

Society will by no means be at a standstill. The Shawnee Country club will be open during the fall and winter and there are those ever-present "rumors" that several fall weddings are to be solemnized.

So, altho summer is almost over, the events in the social world will go on.

Miss Lois Benetia Sutton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forest Sutton, 609 W. North-st., and William Noah Jordan, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Jordan of St. Marys were united in marriage Sunday morning at seven o'clock at the home of the bride, Rev. F. W. Roling, pastor of the St. Paul's Lutheran church, was the officiating clergyman. A wedding breakfast for members of the immediate families followed.

Mr. and Mrs. Jordan left for a lake trip and after Sept. 22, will receive their friends in the Grace-apt., 1215 W. North-st. Mr. Jordan is a teller at the City Bank.

Robert Sheldene entertained the employees of the Gordon's store at his home in Gomer, Thursday evening. Mr. Sheldene leaves next week to resume his college work and the party was as a farewell affair. Concerts, games and dancing were enjoyed and a luncheon was served.

Members of the Laugh-Yet club will enjoy a picnic dinner at the Faurot Park, Tuesday.

Walter Seely, W. Wayne-st., left Wednesday for LaFayette, Ind., where he will resume his studies at the Purdue university.

Miss Marian Howe, N. Collett-st., will leave Wednesday for Shelbyville, Ky., where she will enter the Science Hill school.

Mrs. Roy B. Gregg had two children, S. Cole-rt, returned Saturday from Wilmington, where they spent the past week with relatives.

City Manager and Mrs. C. A. Bingham entertained the City Hall staff at a "steak roast" at their summer home at Orchard Island, Saturday evening. About twenty-five attended the affair.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hagerman of Dayton, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Leff Erickson, E. Circular-st.

Edward Foster and son, James, of Fort Deposit, Md., formerly of Lima, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Beach, Oakland Park.

"Singles Wives" Given Showing at Sigma; "Manhandled" at Quilna

Lyric Books "Miami"; "Dangerous Maid" at Majestic; Buck Jones at Rialto

BY GERTRUE GILLHAM

There has been much said recently concerning the magnitude of motion picture productions scheduled for appearance at local cinema houses during the fall season and included in the list of attractions for the forthcoming week are some of the best in the entire roster.

The widely heralded Allan Dwan production, "Manhandled" comes to the Quilna theatre this afternoon for a week's stay. Gloria Swanson has the leading role and is supported by an excellent cast headed by Tom Moore. This is said to be the star's best picture to date.

The Sigma has two good productions booked for appearance this week. "Single Wives," which opened Saturday, is a society drama dealing with a modern matrimony tangle and has as its principal players Corinne Griffith and Milton Sills. On Thursday comes Larry Simon's first feature length comedy, "The Girl in the Limousine." It's a screen version of the New York stage play by Avery Hopwood.

Betty Compson has a role entirely different from any of her recent characterizations in "Miami," which opened Saturday at the Lyric for a four day run. The picture is a thrilling society drama of unusual merit and has a fine cast in support of the star. "Another Scandal," starring Lois Wilson, will be the Lyric's attraction starting Wednesday.

"The Dangerous Maid," with Constance Talmadge, is the Majestic's offering today and Monday. Tuesday brings "Just Off Broadway," starring John Gilbert, for three days. "The Bad Man" with Holbrook Blinn, comes to the Majestic Friday for the remainder of the week.

The Rialto has "Western Luck" with Buck Jones for the first three days of the week. It will be followed on Tuesday by "His Forgotten Wife" with Madge Bellamy.

BETTY COMPSON

"Miami," Society Story, at Lyric Theatre

Two society dramas will be shown at the Lyric theatre this week. "Miami," starring Betty Compson, will appear until Wednesday when it will be replaced by "Another Scandal" in which Lois Wilson has the leading role.

"Miami" has many entertaining qualities. In addition to the excellent cast, it contains an absorbing story with novel situations and some lavish sets and beautiful exteriors. Altho Miami Beach has figured slightly in many pictures, this is said to be the first time an entire photoplay has been laid in the famous resort.

The story is about wealthy society set in general and about Joan Bruce in particular. Joan is an ultra-modern girl who almost loses the man she loves thru her daring escapades. She is ably portrayed by Betty Compson who is as able and alluring as ever.

Miss Compson's supporting cast is unusually good. Benjamin F. Finney, Jr., a newcomer to the screen, is her leading man. Hedda Hopper, J. Barney Sherry and Lucy Fox also have important parts in which they do some very good work.

The production has been made on a lavish scale. But the beauty is not merely confined to palatial homes, yachts, gambling palaces, and such. There are plenty of exterior shots showing the glorious winter paradise. All the sports for which the resort is famous also figure prominently in the picture.

The many admirers of Cosmo Hamilton's latest novel, "Another Scandal" will welcome its appearance on the screen Wednesday when it comes to the Lyric for three days only. It is a story of marriage—the inevitable struggle to overcome the clash of temperament, and avoid the entanglement brought about by trifling misunderstandings. Besides Lois Wilson the cast includes Holmes Herbert, Ralph Bunker, Hedda Hopper and Flora Le Breton.

ORPHEUM SHOW

Curley Burns in "Her Second Honeymoon"

"Her Second Honeymoon" will be the offering presented to New Orpheum patrons for the first half of the coming week. Curley Burns, Howard Paden and the "Cute Little Devils" company will be in charge of all arrangements for the momentous event. This production will be staged for four days beginning today matinee.

All members of the company will be seen in very good parts and it is said the best parts of their stay here will be given them. Curley Burns, joyful blackface comedian; Howard Paden, leading man; Gertrude Lowery, leading lady; Blue Morey, Joe McKenzie, Harold McCormick, Bessie Hale, Mrs. LaRue and Aline Walker will all be seen to advantage.

For the first time during the stay of the company here Miss Walker will discard the burnt cork makeup and will play an entirely different part.

Scenic effects especially fitted for the cafe and apartment scenes in "Her Second Honeymoon" are said to be on a par with those seen in the two productions of the past week. Settings provided by the company are far ahead of those generally carried by companies of this size.

Plot of the play concerns the husband and wife who are being separated by the villainies of her brother who is after her money.

The husband agreed to a visit to a cafe with a professional corespondent. After the divorce is granted the two meet and decide that they want to get married again.

Incidents leading up to their marriage and second honeymoon form the basis of the plot.

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday, "The Bobbed Hair Bandit" will be presented by the company. This is a change from the original plans of the company. This production is said to be as interesting and exciting as "Spooks," the mystery play presented the last times Saturday. The first country store of the season will be seen Wednesday evening.

"SINGLE WIVES"
Corinne Griffith Stars On Sigma Program

A diversified program will be seen at the Sigma theatre this week with "Single Wives," a modern society drama, appearing for the first half of the week and Larry Simon's new comedy drama, "The Girl in the Limousine," booked for the last three days.

Corinne Griffith and Milton Sills are co-starred in "Single Wives" and the remainder of the all-star cast includes Kathryn Williams, Lou Tellegen, Henry B. Walthall, Phyllis Haver, Phillips Smalley, John Patrick and many other prominent players.

In the story Earl Hudson, the author, has shown how a normal couple, loving each other and living a quiet life, may, thru the agency of trifling incidents, drift apart — perhaps to the danger point.

Betty Jordan, played by Corinne Griffith, yearns for the little thoughtful acts that her husband, Perry, seems to overlook. When he presents her with a pearl necklace on their wedding anniversary he unwittingly hurts her to the quick by his lack of enthusiasm and romanticism. When another man appears on the scene and gives her more attention than she receives from her husband she finds herself drifting away from her home. Her own mother, at the same time, faces the same situation. How the two triangles are finally solved makes the unfolding of "Single Wives," an absorbing story.

"The Girl in the Limousine," which comes to the Sigma Thursday for a three day stay, is the first feature length comedy in which Larry Simon has ever appeared.

It is a screen adaptation of the successful New York stage play of the same name, written by Avery Hopwood and Wilson Col man and produced by Al Woods several years ago. The play was so well liked that it ran thru two seasons on Broadway before starting to tour the country.

Clair Adams plays opposite the comedian and Charlie Murray will be seen as the butler. Lucille Ward, Larry Steers, and Oliver Harding completes the cast.

CONNIE HERE

"Dangerous Maid" on at Majestic

Constance Talmadge proves that she is an expert horsewoman, a skilled fencer with the rapier and makes a charming figure in a boy's costume in "The Dangerous Maid" which opens a two days stay at the Majestic this afternoon.

In the cast of "The Dangerous Maid" besides Constance Talmadge are Conway Tearle, her leading man, Morgan Wallace, Tully Marshall, Marjorie Daw, Charles Gerard, Kate Price and several other prominent players.

The story of "The Dangerous Maid" is laid in the turbulent times when the Duke of Monmouth rebelled against King James II of England. Constance Talmadge has the role of the madcap little rebel who dons a cavalier's sword and costume and engages in a thrilling series of adventures with the officers of the king.

The story gives Constance her first opportunity to play a dramatic role, and the picture, although it contains many humorous situations, is replete with romance and love interest, and is embellished with superb sets.

On Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday the Majestic will offer "Just Off Broadway" starring Hoot Gibson. This will be succeeded by "The Bad Man" with Holbrook Blinn, for two days.

"MANHANDLED"

Gloria Swanson Stars at Quirina Sunday

SHOW PLEASES

"Trial Honeymoon" Given
Warm Welcome

Another Paramount picture that has swept the country with a wave of public approval comes to the Quirina theatre this afternoon for an entire week's stay. It is "Manhandled" starring Gloria

Swanson is said to run the whole gamut of emotions as the little shop girl trying the white lights of Broadway, taking a whirl at being a dancer's model pending one time posing—all for a "good time." But she comes in the end the honest love is far better than the temporary luxuries showered upon her by hosts of more or less ardent admirers.
Those who have seen the picture say she has put another rousing performance on top of "Zaza," "The Hammer Bird" and
"A Star is Scandal."

It was in dancing that "A Trial Honeymoon" at the Faurot Opera house Friday night excelled. To be sure the dialogue was especially witty and the tuneful musical numbers were handled by comp-tents but it was not until the dance numbers were on that the audience forgot itself and just enjoyed the how. Even the members of the ensemble were good dancers.

It so happens that "A Trial Honeymoon" has more than a liberal sprinkling of dancing numbers and all are of more than average excellency. Therefore the production is on that will be remembered by the who will be more moons to come.

John Jennings, W. D. F. Hill
the paragon of the traffic policemen, was not perturbed by the most entertaining character in the "single" show. His technique, if it can be called so, was different and his dancing proved very enchanting.

Arnold Gubel is the paragon inventor and William Winter
Pete Waterfall, supplied the love Clement. They were seen together in several musical numbers the most popular of which was "Mating Time" and proved to be most accomplished dancers.

"DEFENSE DAY" PLANS MADE

Mass Meeting At Memorial Hall Is Scheduled

NO PARADE. SAYS HARLEY

Enlistments For Day Are Made Possible

Plans for a public mass meeting at Memorial hall Friday night as the wind up of Defense day celebration in Lima were announced Saturday by Col. John A. Harley, chairman of the committee.

Speakers for the occasion have not yet been selected, Col. Harley said. They will be announced early in the week.

The meeting at the hall will be the only observance by the civilian population. On account of the short time since the Mardi Gras celebration here, it was decided not to attempt a parade.

Col. Harley said it would be difficult to equal the pageant given here Sept. 1 on short notice. It was also felt that a parade might interfere with commercial activities, which is not desired.

Decoration of homes and stores with the national colors is requested of all citizens, as a part of the patriotic observance of the day.

MOBILIZATION PLANNED

The three military organizations in the city, Co. G, Battery P, and Headquarters Company will mobilize at their respective armories at 7 p.m. The mobilization of the units will be made as rapidly as possible.

A brief drill will probably be held and the organization commanders will report to the adjutant general on the effective strength and efficiency of their units.

Former service men and others without military experience who care to are asked to join the colors for one day. No obligation is required other than giving their names at headquarters of command or to some member of the organization.

Men who would prefer one of the regular branches of service can also enlist for one day only at either the U. S. Marine recruiting station, in charge of Sergeant Joseph Balla, or the U. S. Army recruiting station, at the court house, in charge of Corporal Clarence Tyre.

Members of the Army and Naval reserve corps in the city will report to headquarters of their respective corps areas.

DIRIGIBLE ZR-3 ON TRIAL TRIP

Giant Airship Covers Distance Of 480 Miles

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany.—(By Associated Press)—Enthusiasm over the airship's excellent behavior was the dominant note here Saturday night when the giant dirigible ZR-3, built by the Zeppelin Co. for the United States navy, had completed its second official trial, during which the ship covered about 480 miles at an average speed of 69 miles an hour, remaining in the air eight hours and 45 minutes.

Dr. Hugo Eckener, director of the Zeppelin Co., and Lieutenant Commander Garland Fulton, U. S. N., said a 30 hours' duration flight over the Baltic by way of Berlin and Hamburg would take place next week and they asserted that was likely that the ZR-3 would start on her trans-Atlantic trip to Lakehurst, N. J., about Sept. 29.

During the flight the ship carried 84 persons which is a record for dirigibles, according to Zeppelin officials. Among the passengers were Count Soden, cousin of the late Count Von Zeppelin; Baron Bussel, a German army colonel, and other representatives of the German government.

The Americans who took the trip were Commander Garland Fulton, Lieutenant Commander Sydney M. Krauss, and Commander John H. Towers, U. S. N., and Major Frank M. Kennedy and Harold Geiger, U. S. A. Jack Yolton of the Goodrich Rubber company and several American newspaper correspondents were also aboard.

U. S. "NICKED" IN SILVER DEAL

Millions Lost When Dollars Are Sold Abroad

DEFICIT IN TWO WAYS

"Smackers" and "Kansas Rolls" Back on Job

By LARRY BOARHMAN

WASHINGTON.—(Special)—The silver dollar and its nearest relative, the dollar bill, are stagnating.

After having their ranks depleted by "war emergency" legislation, which "nicked" the United States for a two hundred and fifty million-dollar loss, they once more have come into their own.

"Smackers" and "Kansas rolls" are once more jingling contentedly in trouser pockets, "Kansas rolls" are once more stuffing wallets to capacity—and America has almost forgotten her two hundred million-dollar loss on the dollar-bill deal.

Both families made the change the past week.

World War.

The silver dollar and dollar bill "clean-out" came as a result of England's wartime need of silver to restore her trade balance.

India, always a great silver consumer, had absorbed all the silver in sight and was demanding more. But England, suffering from a silver shortage, had no silver to give her. So England turned to America, her ally, to help her out of her hole.

NICE FOR JOHN BULL

America answered her call in 1918 by passing the Pittman act, named after Senator Pittman of Nevada.

The act authorized the secretary of the treasury to melt silver dollars into bullion and sell this bullion to England for one dollar an ounce.

The act set a limit of $350,000 on the number of silver dollars that could be so disposed of.

The secretary of the treasury melted and shipped to England 270,000,000 silver dollars.

That was where America took her first "nicking." The coinage value of one ounce of silver was $1.29. Selling silver for $1 an ounce America lost 29 cents on every ounce she sold. Right at the start, therefore, she lost about $35,000,000.

This was brought out in the fight over the Pittman act, but was justified by friends of the legislation on the ground of "war emergency."

The act was for the stated purpose of "assisting foreign governments at war with the enemies of the United States."

For many years the number of silver dollars in the country has been in the neighborhood of 570,000,000. As soon as the Pittman act started working this number naturally started dwindling down.

The number of dollar bills decreased in exact proportion to the number of silver dollars, for every time a silver dollar was melted and shipped away a dollar bill had to be withdrawn from circulation.

This because there must be a silver dollar in the treasury for every dollar bill outstanding.

The place of the dollar bills was then taken by Federal Reserve Bank notes.

After the war the process of melting silver dollars into bullion for shipment to England came to a halt. Then America started making up her shortage of 270,000,000 "drop men."

SOMEBODY PROFITED?

The Pittman act also provided for this contingency. It authorized the secretary of the treasury to buy silver bullion at $1 an ounce—the same price for which it had been sold.

The secretary did so—paid $1 an ounce for silver bullion under the provisions of the act. This despite the fact that silver had dropped in price to between 60 and 70 cents an ounce.

In this way America took her second "nicking," losing from 30 to 40 cents an ounce on approximately 270,000,000 ounces—a sum of more than $100,000,000.

Then came the third "nicking."
